

5-19-10

Dear CCS Family,

The last week of school is here. I would describe it as bittersweet. Bitter in the fact that some students are moving on and I will not see them for quite some time. (I would like to ask each of them to be sure to say hello to me in the future years. I may not recognize them in 10 years but would still like to be reacquainted with them.) Sweet because we have shared so many memories and so much learning this past year. We have reached the end of a goal; to complete the school year with determination and energy. Well done everyone!

May God bless you and keep you. May He make his face to shine down upon you. May His will for your lives be clear and may you anticipate His next move in your lives with joy and expectation.

To God, and God alone, belongs the glory!
