Class News:

Phonics: Our letters for the week are "Tt", "Pp" and "Hh". We are constantly reviewing our letter names, sounds, and rhyming words. Our new book is: Sam Sat. We are now into Decodable books. This means that we are now sounding out three letter words and reading our sight words. There are no picture words in our story. This is how we sound out a word:

Sat= sound= sound = blend = sound = blend = say the word

s a sa t sat sat

Please let me know if you have any questions on this. Please be reviewing your sight word rings and little readers daily!!! We are also blending words daily.

Math: We are writing and identifying numbers to 29, counting dots on a cube, and taking timed tests. We are beginning addition.

Science: Ground Hog Day. We know that ground hogs are also called Whistle Pigs, Marmots, and Woodchucks. Yes we do have six more weeks of winter.

Bible: We are finishing up our study of Moses and the ten plagues.

REMINDERS:

- If your child is running a fever, throwing-up, or is fighting a cold/cough/sore throat please keep them home!
- Send coats, hat, and gloves. Our weather is unpredictable and we go out to recess everyday unless raining or extremely cold.

Have a wonderful and relaxing weekend!

God Bless
